Introducing our NEWEST TEAM MEMBER!!

WELCOME TO THE TEAM
Naomi!

We are excited to announce the newest member to join the Max Meyers Law team, Attorney Naomi Arin.

Naomi comes to us as an attorney with twenty-five years of experience. Naomi has devoted her career to specializing in personal injury cases. She is an experienced trial attorney. Naomi's practice at MML will focus on client cases where lawsuits are filed.

Some background on Naomi. Naomi grew up outside of Boston in Lexington, Massachusetts. She went to college at University of Massachusetts in Amherst where she majored in American History. After college she went to Law School at Suffolk University Law School in Boston, Massachusetts. Shortly after graduating she moved to Las Vegas, Nevada where her brother was also a practicing lawyer.

Naomi worked as an insurance defense attorney for 5 years, which gives her great insight now as a plaintiff's side attorney. In 2016,

Naomi and her husband Roger and their kids, Eric and Isabella, and rescue cat with attitude "Chicken" packed up and moved to Mercer Island.

While working as an attorney by day, Naomi spends her free time in the Contemporary Art World. She even had her own Art Gallery in Las Vegas in years past. Her love of Art is one of her true passions. She is still an art consultant for select collectors from time to time.

Since moving to Washington, Naomi has also been active in the Puget sound community. She is a supporter of the Seattle Art Museum, the Frye Museum, The Henry Art Museum on the University of Washington Campus and the Bellevue Museum.

We are excited for our clients to get to know Naomi and benefit from her many years of experience. Welcome to the team Naomi!

9 TIPS for Keeping on a Holiday Budget by Dawn Husmoe

I look forward to spending time with my loved ones every holiday season. I love hearing the festive songs on the radio, seeing all the lights and decorations throughout town, and most importantly, taking a break from the daily routine of life to spend time catching up with family.

While I love all of these things about the holiday season, it can also be a bit overwhelming to think about all the gift shopping. Trying to figure out just the right gift for everyone can be stressful enough, but if you are on a budget it can be even harder! I come from a large family, so this is something I think about and plan for every year. Are you on a tight budget this holiday season?

Here are 9 tips I have found useful for getting myself organized and help me stick to a holiday shopping budget:

 Make a list of everyone you plan to buy a gift. Put a dollar amount next to each name so that you set a price limit ahead of time and then stick to your budget.

Get started now. If you procrastinate, you are more likely to run out of time and overspend on a gift.

Use your phone to do price checks. One of the joys of technology is that you can look online ahead of time to find the best deals out there.

If possible, buy last year's electronics. If you don't care about all the fancy new features, save yourself some money and buy a device that is maybe a few months older than the newest model.

Homemade gifts can be some of the most memorable and cost effective! Grandparents love receiving photos of their grandkids and baked goods can be a huge hit. No need to break the bank to make someone a special gift.

Save up now! If you know you have a big-ticket item you will be purchasing, start setting money aside early. You can even sign up to have your bank automatically transfer money into a savings account for you.

Stick to your shopping list. There is a ton of cool stuff out there and it will entice you to want to buy during the holiday season. Don't get distracted! Stay focused on your list and get out of the store as soon as you have what you need.

If you are shopping online, don't forget to factor in shipping fees. Many retailers offer free shipping to attract customers, but make sure you look at this before you click to buy.

Review your account statements and pay your bills regularly. This will allow you to stay on top of what you're spending and stick to your set budget. If you have a credit card that offers cash back or other rewards, consider using this for holiday gift purchases. You are going to spend money anyway, so might as well get something back in return!

A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON!

YEAR IN REVIEW AT MML

by Max Meyers

All in all, Max Meyers Law has had a great 2018. We have been lucky enough to have many people trust us to care for them and handle their vehicle accident cases.

Many of those people come directly from referrals of people like you, readers of this newsletter. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your trust in recommending your friends and family to us!

Many of our clients were able to receive fair and just compensation for their accident claims either by settlement or in court via a verdict. Fighting the good fight for clients to deliver fair compensation for injuries, pay off medical bills, and bring closure to a difficult chapter in our client's life is the most enjoyable part of what the MML team does.

As a result of your referrals, we are growing as you have seen over the past couple years. We look forward to our new larger 2019 office space just a couple miles up the road in Bothell. The new office is just off I-405 and has loads of free parking. I anticipate MML will continue to grow as we enter our sixth year of business. Our goal will remain the same no matter the size... deliver high quality legal representation combined with exceptional customer service for all our clients.

Looking forward into 2019, I'm seeing a trend showing up in vehicle accident cases. In most cases we are fighting directly with the at-fault driver's insurance company. These fights have made it difficult, but not impossible, to settle a client's case without a lawsuit having been filed. However, the lowball pre-lawsuit settlement offers are so bad now, I consider many of them straight up insulting. As a result, I foresee most of our clients will have to have a lawsuit filed in their cases to obtain fair compensation. It's a longer road to justice but well worth the extra effort. Corporate Greed and Profits over Injured People is never going to win the day at Max Meyers Law!

I wish you all the best and may your Holiday Season bring you many blessings!
