TIPS

for An Amazing Home Tailgate Party

You got to fully commit to bring these ideas to your home tailgate party before each Seahawk, Husky or Cougar game!!

GRILLING IS FOR ROOKIES

If you want to go pro, a smoker is the only answer to meat preparation. Nothing beats apple wood smoked chicken, ribs, or pulled pork; my mouth is watering just thinking about it.

SIDE DISHES NEED TO BE EQUALLY ON POINT

Don't just open a jar of salsa and dump it in a bowl. Take the time to prepare it yourself. Make your own guacamole or dip. Fresh, made from scratch food is what next level tailgating is all about.

CANNED BEER IS FOR COLLEGE DAYS

When it comes to game day beverages, one word - Kegerator! Cold draft beer on tap at home... enough said!

ATMOSPHERE MUST BE ON POINT

No one wants to see fancy table cloths and silverware. Folding tables with team logo, solo cups, plastic silverware, and paper plates are required. Team gear must be worn and team flags hung prominently.

HUGE TV

A large TV that can be seen clearly from all angles is a must. OLED technology for TVs these days is mind blowing.

With these tips, you will be the go-to tailgate party for all your friends and family.

LET THE FUN BEGIN!

FOOTBALL SEASON IS HERE AGAIN!

Our annual football calendar magnet will be delivered in early August.

BACK TO SCHOOL SHOPPING BEGINS!

Summers go so fast when you have school age children. The start of another school year is less than a month away, wow! Here are a few tips to save while shopping.

Make a list — and think twice about each item. It's a simple but important trick: Write down what you need, not what you want. Maybe it's highlighters, a pair of jeans or a calculator. Before you add an item to the list, envision how you would use it in your daily student life, how often you'd use it, and the reason you want it in the first place.

Buy used or refurbished items

There are plenty of apps and sites out there to help you track down any used or refurbished items on your list, including Amazon, Best Buy, eBay, Etsy, Depop and Mercari, among countless others. Whether you're shopping for textbooks, electronics or clothing, you'll pay less this way than if you were to buy brand new. Plus, you can usually find discounted items in "like new" condition on most of these platforms.

Take advantage of coupon codes

Though you may have to scour the web to find them, there are often coupons or promo codes that can help you save even more money. CouponCabin and RetailMeNot can be good starting points when searching for coupons.

Use browser extensions to compare deals

You might think you've found the best deal out there, but there's a good chance there are even better prices still waiting to be discovered. Browser extensions such as PayPal Honey will track them down for you so you don't have to sift through every website to find your pencil case at the lowest available price point on the Internet.

Take advantage of student discounts

With a simple Google search, you'll find lists of stores of all categories that will mark off items if you flash your student ID. For example, Apple, Microsoft, H&M, Madewell, American Eagle and Goodwill all offer discounts just for students.

Bottom line

It can be easy to buy that extra gadget or an overpriced backpack when you're not deploying tools such as these to help you save money.

Whether you're just looking for new pens or shopping for an entirely new wardrobe, there are always ways to be more price conscious and find better deals. By using these tips and tricks, you can avoid overspending during this back-to-school season.

What Clients Are Saying About Us!

"Max is a great lawyer! He gets it done! Insurance companies are really determined to put you through hell, and I'm sure glad I had Max and his team as my first defense. Have already recommended them to several people & will continue to recommend them. Their team is nice and easy to work with, reply to messages quickly, and don't mind being asked a lot of questions, or giving you many, many updates. I will definitely continue to work with Max Meyers Law."

Leading Causes of Car Accidents in our Experience

One critical advantage we offer you is the ability to thoroughly investigate all evidence related to the crash and determine why it happened. This attention to detail is necessary for proving the other driver was at fault and building a strong foundation with all the elements of your car accident claim.

While you might be able to piece together certain facts on your own, it's more challenging to manage while you're recovering from the physical and psychological damage of the incident. When you have the legal team from Max Meyers Law on your side, it's our sole responsibility to follow the evidence, preserve it, get eyewitness testimonies, and consult with experts who can further define the reasons for the crash.

8 TOP CAUSES OF CAR ACCIDENTS IN WASHINGTON

Unfortunately, in 2023, there were approximately 700 fatal collisions and nearly 3,000 serious injury crashes in The Evergreen State. A driver's negligence is often the major reason tragic collisions occur on our roads and highways. This irresponsibility is due to many factors:

- Speeding. Driving too fast dramatically increases the risk of auto accidents and the severity of injuries that victims suffer. There's less time to react to traffic conditions, making it more difficult to avoid collisions.
- Distracted driving. Texting, eating, using GPS and other distracted driving behaviors have declined in Washington, but they still pose a vital threat. According to Washington's Traffic Safety Commission, "research shows that it can take a driver 27 seconds to refocus on the road after using a cell phone—the time it can take to drive the length of three football fields in a car moving at 25 mph."

- Fatigue. Drowsy motorists have slower reaction times and impaired judgment, similar to those driving under the influence of alcohol. If they fight to stay awake or fall asleep at the wheel, they can cause a deadly head-on collision or rear-end crash.
- Intoxication. Driving while drunk or high on drugs is one of the most dangerous behaviors a person can do. Intoxicated drivers have impaired motor skills, reduced reaction times, and poor decision-making abilities.
- Aggressive driving. Tailgating, making improper lane changes, and other aggressive driving behaviors are leading causes of tragic car accidents. What's even more deadly is road rage.

- Neglecting weather conditions. Drivers who don't adjust their speed and other actions due to bad weather conditions put themselves and others at risk.

- Poor road conditions. Potholes, uneven surfaces, and lack of proper signage can also contribute to accidents. A local governmental agency responsible for road maintenance could be held liable if we prove its negligence caused your crash.

- Failure to obey traffic laws. Unfortunately, many auto accidents are caused when motorists fail to follow Washington's traffic laws. Disregarding traffic signals, running red lights, and not yielding the right of way are just a few reasons why negligent drivers cause victims to suffer life-altering injuries in a preventable wreck.

HOW MAX MEYERS LAW HELPS YOU PURSUE DIFFERENT TYPES OF CAR ACCIDENT COMPENSATION

There are numerous economic and non-economic damages related to accident injuries. Even seemingly minor incidents can still produce complicated health issues and property damage. But in more severe crashes, such as semi-truck accidents or motorcycle wrecks, it's all too common for people to

BEER CHEESE DIP

Here's a great dip for your football tailgate party. Combine with soft pretzels and you'll have a huge hit!

Ingredients:

- 1/4 c unsalted butter
- 1/2 c finely chopped yellow onion
- 1/4 c all-purpose flour
- 1 (12-oz.) can IPA beer
- 1/4 c half-and-half
- 6 oz shredded fontina cheese
- 6 oz shredded sharp yellow cheddar cheese
- 1 tsp dijon mustard
- 1/2 tsp Worcestershire sauce
- Chopped chives and/or black pepper, for garnish
- Pretzels, to serve

Directions:

In a medium saucepan, melt the butter over medium-low heat. Add the onion and cook, stirring, until softened, 4 to 6 minutes. Gradually whisk in the flour and cook, whisking constantly, until lightly browned, about 1 minute.

Gradually whisk in the beer and half and half. Cook, whisking constantly, until the sauce is thickened and just begins to bubble, 5 to 7 minutes.

Reduce the heat to low and gradually add the cheeses, whisking constantly, until melted and combined. Remove from the heat.

Whisk in the Dijon mustard and the Worcestershire sauce.

Garnish with chives and black pepper, if you like. Serve with pretzels; re-warm gently as needed.

suffer traumatic brain injuries, internal organ damage, or paralysis.

At Max Meyers Law, our goal is to ensure you receive the maximum compensation possible for your losses. We evaluate every aspect of how the crash affects you now and in the future. Here's what we may be able to recover for you in a comprehensive settlement:

- Medical expenses. Under Washington law, you're entitled to be reimbursed for your medical costs resulting from the crash. This includes emergency room visits, hospitalizations, surgeries, medications, physical therapy, psychological counseling, and any other necessary medical treatments to treat your injuries.
- Lost wages. If you cannot work because of your injuries, we assess the income, sick and vacation time, and other perks you lost during your recovery period. You may also be awarded lost earning capacity damages if you're unable to work or must switch jobs due to your injuries.

- Pain and suffering. You should receive pain and suffering damages for the physical and emotional distress you endured as a result of the collision. We have the experience to accurately determine how much compensation you should receive in a settlement.

- Property damage. It's also important to factor in reimbursement for repairing or replacing your vehicle and any other personal property damaged in the accident.
- Wrongful death. If a loved one died as a result of their car accident injuries, you may be able to file a wrongful death action and obtain damages for your financial and emotional losses. While this won't take away the excruciating pain of losing your family member, it can give you a sense of justice and help you move forward in life.
